Substance Use among Nurses

Charlotte Ross, RN, RPN, PhD
Faculty, BSN Program, Faculty of Health Sciences at Douglas College

Thursday, October 22, 2020 at 7:00 pm - 8:00 pm E.T.

Dr. Charlotte Ross will present key discoveries from her Institutional Ethnography research on nurses' substance use practices. She will discuss how her work revealed dominant moralistic, individuated, decontextualized discourses that organized and silenced nurses' substance-use practices and their experiences in a regulatory treatment program.

Participants will gain knowledge about...

- ...key discoveries from an Institutional Ethnography on Nurses' Substance Use
- ...how dominant moralistic, individuated, decontextualized discourses organize nurses' substance-use practices
- ...how nurses have been silenced in these discourses
- ...nurses' experiences in a regulatory treatment program
- ...the exclusion of public health-based approaches in addressing nurses' substance-use problems
